ThinkPad Edge E525 AMD

Designed for Simplified Sophistication

lenovo FOR THOSE WHO DO.

Attention to detail.

We took the no-nonsense business side of the ThinkPad and added a touch of personality. The result? A slimmed down laptop — it's 13 percent thinner than previous generations — wrapped in a refined, soft matte finish and reinforced with sturdy metal hinges. We also upgraded our legendary spill-resistant keyboard with a numeric keypad (available on the E525) and made sure our multitouch touchpad would be large enough for the most comfortable typing and data-entry experience possible. You can rely on these laptops' design for durability and security, too. Our Active Protection System™ will keep your hard drive safe when you are the move.

Activating Microsoft Office Couldn't Be Easier

Every Lenovo system comes standard with Microsoft Office Starter 2010. This makes it quick and easy to activate a full version of Microsoft Office on any Lenovo PC.

You can activate Microsoft Office 2010 on your ThinkPad in SECONDS by purchasing a Microsoft Office Product Key Card (PKC)! There is no need for a lengthy software installation. The Product Key Card (PKC) activates the Office software that is already on your ThinkPad.

There are three different Microsoft Office 2010 Product Key Cards available:

	Intel Part #	Estimated Customer Price*
Microsoft Office Professional 2010 PKC	269-14834	$349
Microsoft Office Home & Business PKC	T5D-00295	$189
Microsoft Office Home & Student PKC	79G-02020	$119

*Estimated price is representative of an average of prices from select resellers and may change. Lenovo does not set pricing for Microsoft Office PKCs.
